

Peace rally, Dallas Texas, Saturday 27 January 2007

Dallas Peace Center, DPC, called for the rally in its “End of Occupation” committee on Monday. Iranians for Peace and Justice, IPJ, as a part of the coalition for the rally did its best to spread the news and ask the Iranians community to participate. We had only 4 days for action. However the participation was very good and close to 37% of the participants were Iranian Americans. Local weekly Persian newspaper, Shahrvand, dedicated one full page to this event which was a major factor for informing the Persian speaking community.

Almost all of the posters and banners were related to stopping the Iraq war, bringing the troops home and stopping any war attempt on Iran. The people, who were driving by, were honking their horns in support of peace movement.

Considering the short time of organizing the rally, this was a successful rally.
